

HUMOUR IN UNIFORM

Good Night

An OOD was passing the barracks after lights out, when he heard voices from inside. He slammed open the door, and shouted; "Listen, you guys! A few minutes ago, you all heard me say Good Night. What you must realise, is that when I say Good Night, it implies shut up!!".

There was pin drop silence instantly but after a few seconds, a small voice could be heard from somewhere in the far back of the dark room; "Good Night Sir".

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

This Humour in Uniform is authored by Dharmarao Paidi, EAAR4, (195196-B). The sailor is presently posted at INS Dega.

TeleCommunication

In morning muster:-

Senior most: Anyone has got any experience in telecom works?

One junior raises his hand.

Senior: Ok, then you go and dig a hole for the telephone post.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

This Humour in Uniform is authored by Praveen Vats, LEMAR, (137280-A). The sailor is presently posted at INS Dega.

HUMOUR IN UNIFORM

While my husband was on a prolonged Overseas Deployment, our four-year-old daughter decided that she needed a baby brother.

"Good idea," I told her, "But don't you think we should wait till your father is back home?" She had a better idea, "Why don't we just surprise him?"

Mo ! That still does not qualify you for a Commendation for Devotion to Duty!

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Cdr Amod Kotwal is an alumnus of 51st Naval Academy Course and 67th DSSC. A specialist in Communications and EW, he has been SCO on board IN Ships Gomati and Tir, an instructor at Signal School, Executive Officer of INS Prabal and has commanded INS Matanga. The Officer is presently Executive Officer, INS Kattabomman.

